

Green – A Mental Aura Color

- Powerful, ambitious, driven, business-minded, goal-oriented, strong-willed and tenacious
- Organized, efficient, impatient, perfectionistic and demanding (of self and others)
- Like being in charge, telling other people what to do, and delegating responsibility
- They have control issues; want control of their emotions, home, finances, and relationships
- Classic type A personality; they are competitive overachievers and workaholics
- Gauge success by: making lots of money, being respected, and accomplishing their goals
- Very quick learners; they love to learn and need to be intellectually stimulated
- Recognize patterns and solutions before most other colors; constantly ask “How and Why?”
- They hate being wrong and being told what to do, even as children; can be very stubborn
- Tend to compare themselves to other, more accomplished and successful, people
- Fear failure; perpetually judge themselves and their achievements as not being good enough
- Can be obsessed with their appearance and weight; can develop an eating disorder easily
- Can be dominating, opinionated and intimidating when not centered in themselves
- Relationships can be difficult for Greens because they build isolating walls around themselves with their incredibly high expectations and workaholic tendencies
- They need to admire and respect their mate and be able to have stimulating conversation
- Tend to attract and yet become bored with less ambitious/goal-oriented mates
- They don't like dealing with details; they are idea and concept people
- They are calculating risk-takers and enjoy new challenges once a goal is accomplished
- They have no patience with weak, undisciplined, and unmotivated people
- They're ambivalent about having kids because kids take up a lot of the Green's precious time
- They tend to be disciplinarian, organizational, demanding and controlling parents
- They often drink caffeinated coffee to speed their mind up and accomplish more
- They often drink alcohol to calm them down and allow them to (occasionally) relax

The Life Purpose of someone with the primary color of Green is to do what they do naturally – excel, achieve and accomplish anything they put their mind to and to inspire others to do the same. Their motto is “Where there’s a will, there’s a way.”

The Basic Fear of someone with the primary color of Green is the fear of failure despite their best efforts to excel and be the best. Another basic fear is not being in control at all times.

Greens are intelligent, savvy and shrewd. They are goal-oriented, time efficient, productive and creative. They are generally prudent with finances and natural moneymakers. Many Greens, but not all, are attracted to careers where they can apply their creative ideas to making themselves money. Others use their innate hard work ethic, planning and organizing ability, and pattern seeing skills to help other people. All Greens like to be the best at whatever they do and know how to take full advantage of savings, bonus and incentive programs at work. They prefer to work for themselves or, at the very least, in a high level position for a company where they can excel and get to be in charge. They need mental stimulation and challenge in their work. Typical Green occupations include the following:
