

Physical Tan – A Physical Aura Color

(Physical tan is a deep, rich colored tan accompanied by a forest colored green that encircles a person's body)

- Physical Tan is the bridge color between the physical and the mental aura colors
- Responsible, reliable, grounded, practical, logical, ultra-loyal and trustworthy
- Private, quiet, independent and self-sufficient; can be seen as aloof, cold and unemotional
- Seem to have an innate interest in the environment and great spatial awareness
- Approach anything new with caution and suspicion
- Not afraid to speak up for themselves or others when it's called for
- Have an air of mystery, secrecy and intrigue about them; subtle and charming, yet reserved
- Serious and self-controlled; cautious decision makers (weigh all the options first)
- Don't open up easily unless they really know and trust someone well
- Committed, competent and dedicated employees; follow directions well
- Like their work environment to be neat, orderly and well-structured
- Uncentered Physical Tans can be obstinate and stuck in a rut; and/or workaholics
- Enjoy being in nature and often work outside; love to hike mountains
- Tend to avoid confrontations or disagreements
- Independent and freedom-loving in relationships
- Can be quite sexual since they are in touch with their physical body
- Like order, cleanliness, and structure in their homes
- Good providers for their family but not very emotionally demonstrative
- Like experimenting, researching, measuring and analyzing, especially of/with the environment
- Solve problems using keen observation as well as innate mental and physical prowess
- Famous Example: Clint Eastwood (Physical Tan/Violet)

The Life Purpose of someone with the primary color of Physical Tan is to do what they do naturally – use their innate environmental and spatial awareness to improve the quality of life on earth.

The Basic Fear of someone with the primary color of Physical Tan is the fear of betrayal.

Physical Tans are tacticians and strategists. That means they have an innate ability to project logistically, manipulate supply lines, deploy personnel and machinery, map out the strategy of complex operational maneuvers, or to acquire leverage. They also have an innate sense of spatial relationships so they are often drawn to work that allows them to analyze, measure, and interact with the physical environment. Their ability to be coolheaded under pressure and make judgments about the next move based on information received through their hands makes them great professional athletes. Typical Physical Tan occupations include the following:

- Aerospace engineer
